Detailed tasting notes : This liqueur is distinguished by its remarkable sweetness and acidity, provided by the plum, which blend harmoniously with the incredible aromas of the yuzu. The result is highly aromatic, rich and complex. Each sip reveals a depth of flavor, where fruity sweetness and lively acidity complement each other perfectly.

Serving suggestions : Enjoy chilled, over ice, as an aperitif or with dessert. As a light digestif or cocktail base.

About the brewery : Nakano BC is located south of Osaka, in the heart of Wakayama Prefecture. It started out brewing soybeans, but today its scope of activity is much broader, extending from sake brewing to the production of various alcoholic beverages such as Umeshu and shochu. It also produces plum fruit juice, a speciality of the prefecture. It is known for welcoming many visitors throughout the year to admire its magnificent garden. Their sake is carefully hand-crafted by highly-skilled toji and kurabito, using spring water from the Fujishiro mountain range.
